

Date
Friday 18 September 2026

Time
Registration from 8.30 am
Workshop concludes 4.00 pm

Venue
The Remington Orange

1517 Forest Road, Orange
NSW 2800

Located on Wiradjuri Country, the lands of the traditional Wiradjuri people

Cost
Free of charge

RSVP
Friday 4 September 2026
Registration essential

Registration
Scan the QR code below

Contact
Dominique Clarke

Project Officer

E: Dominique.Clarke@racgp.org.au

Places are limited so please register early to avoid disappointment.

National guide to preventive healthcare for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people

Fourth edition

Want to improve health outcomes and provide culturally safe healthcare for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people in your community? Come along to our one-day workshop to learn about maximising the opportunity for the prevention of disease at each health service visit.

In this interactive workshop a National Guide author along with a skilled continuous quality improvement practitioner will discuss how best to utilise the fourth edition of the National Guide when providing care for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.

The workshop will be practical and highly interactive, consisting of case studies and small group learning activities.

Program

- Background and purpose of the National Guide
- Features of the National Guide, including:
 - Recommendation tables
 - Good practice points
 - Evidence base
 - Lifecycle wall chart
- Putting the National Guide into practice

This is an approved CPD activity.

This program is a joint partnership between The Royal Australian College of General Practitioners (RACGP) and National Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Organisation (NACCHO).

This program is funded by the Australian Government Department of Health.